

Integrative Learning Component (ILC) Curriculum Requirement Completion Form

Integrative learning helps students combine the benefits of the breadth and depth in their education by fostering synthetic understanding directed toward a particular question, topic, or theme. All students are required to complete an ILC through which they: a. Enhance their knowledge of a particular question, topic, or theme by bringing into conversation some combination of written, visual, artistic, experiential, or laboratory based inquiry; and b. Use two or more ways of knowing and/or theoretical approaches to cultivate a more nuanced understanding of a particular question, topic or theme. Students may meet the ILC requirement by completing any of the following:

1. A multi-field major or a major or minor approved by the Academic Affairs Committee as meeting the description of integrative learning above. A list of approved majors and minors are listed on the reverse side of this page (Appendix A).

2. A semester-long off-campus study program that has been approved by CIIS as meeting the description of integrative learning above. See Appendix B for a discussion of the SLU-approved programs certified by the Committee on International and Intercultural Studies as meeting the ILC learning goals for every student completing them.

3. A cluster of 4 courses of at least one unit, each organized around a particular question, topic, or theme, selected in consultation with the academic advisor. The 4 courses must be from at least 2 different departments or programs and may include courses counted toward other general education requirements. The academic advisor must approve the student’s course cluster prior to graduation.
